Dramatis Outreach is launching a 12-week drama-based course aimed at adults who would benefit from making new friends and gaining confidence. It is aimed at those who might be nervous to begin with. There is no pressure to perform, share, or show, if you don't want to. Just come along and meet some new people!

The programme will include relaxation exercises, games, script reading, and group discussion. We will be aiming to get to grips with some play/scene reading for an audio recording on the 9th April. But don't worry, this is not high energy acting in front of an audience!

A taster session will be on 23rd of January 2020 at the Jeneses Centre, where we will be explaining to you what we will be getting up to; so why not pop down? It's a great opportunity to meet the group and there will be tea, biscuits...and hey, maybe even cake!

If you would like to come along, places are limited, so ask your health practitioner as soon as you can for a Referral.
